

Message from the head

It seems to have been such a short term but yet so much has been achieved. It was lovely last week to see the children having so much fun during the Fun Run—hopefully it will have raised a lot of money to go towards our ambitious plans for renovating the Junior Playground. On the subject of fundraising, please note the Summer Fair planning meeting highlighted to the right. This is the biggest fund raising event in the school calendar and the PA really need your help to make it happen. I know you will all come together to make it work. I hope you are all able to spend some quality time with the children this half term and enjoy all London (or further afield for some) has to offer. Have a great half term and see you all back on Tuesday 4th June.

Informing us of lunch changes

Please remember if you are changing your child from school dinners to packed lunch you must let us know before. If you do not inform us, then we will continue to order them a school dinner (which you will need to pay for). School cannot afford to pay for lunches that have been ordered on your behalf regardless of whether your child eats them or not. Thank you for your continued support with this.

Summer Fair Planning Meeting—7.6.19

The Summer Fair will be upon us before we know it—it's on Saturday 29th June. There is a planning meeting in the Staffroom on Friday 7th June at 9am to get ready for it. Please come along if you can. This is one of the biggest fundraising opportunities of the school year for the PA and school really needs all the help you can give. If you can't make it, email the PA and let us know if you'd like to help with collecting donations from local shops and services, if you know a band or entertainer who might want to participate, or if you'd like to let us know you can help out on the day or beforehand. fleetschoolpa@gmail.com

Well done Lily-Bo—a heart of gold!

Last Week Lily-Bo completed a sponsored 12.7km walk to raise money for the British Heart Foundation. So far she has raised over £200! Its not too late to help her swell that figure even more—ask Lisa in the office if you want to sponsor her. We are very proud of her.

The French ice cream shop came to visit Year 4 this week!

The children had to ask for the flavours they wanted in French. Merci beaucoup Mme Wood, vous êtes très gentil!

Est-ce que je peux avoir une glace?

Year 6 have been doing some writing this week inspired by their new text, the amazing 'Wolf Brother' by Michelle Paver. Below are some fantastically evocative examples of setting descriptions they have written (and these are only their first drafts—they'll get even better!). Well done year 6—authors in the making!

The emerald green trees sway in the cold breeze then flow down on to the brown rocky faceless ground sending dust on every spec on each leaf. The tall trees cover the burning blaze. Drips of water slowly slide down the light leaves onto the tired people. When night comes the furry creatures arrive howling and growling night till day until the burning sun rises.

A creepy mist adventures through the never-ending trees as I hear the unforgivable wind brushing against the crooked branches. The smell of old oak and damp moss uplifts across the aged crinkled leaves. The only sound that is heard is a shallow echo of a whisper that persuades us to get out of the forest! But yet no-one does. Whoever goes into the forest never comes back out. The blue sky changes to black which soon gets blocked by leaves. Leaves that cover the sky so much it no longer feels like a forest. A tiny source of light breaks free through the emerald green figures onto the muddy floor.

Frost. Pure frost. Ice so deep nothing could breach the surface. Snow was everywhere that ice wasn't dominating. It's kingdom extended to the far horizon. A strong gust of wind danced across the ice; an ancient ritual performed for millennia. Ice-blue fragments wait to pierce an unfortunate soul. A piercing shriek of a bird lost to the wild hung in the stillness. The stillness that nips your ears. The stillness that haunts. Once a river of life. Now a river of death.

Setting Descriptions in Year 6

A huge thank you to those of you who were able to come along and help steward the Fun Run last Friday. While the weather unexpectedly changed to be very cold leading to our family picnic after the run being much shorter than hoped for, the children seemed to really enjoy it. Special thanks to Tom in Year 6 for the fabulous drone photography shots. We look forward to finding out how much money the children raised through sponsorship for the many laps they ran. If you could please return all sponsorship forms/money to Lisa in the Office by the Tuesday 4th June. Hopefully it will start us off well to support the plans to renovate the junior playground.

Fleet Fun Run!

A particularly healthy snack made by the 'Stars of the Week' this week—coconut cups and a tasty fruit salad. They looked amazing!

To India and beyond...

Year 5 cooked a healthy Indian feast this week as part of the topic—'To India & Beyond' Delicious flatbreads, chutney, curried chickpeas and saag aloo—it all tasted incredible.
