

THE FIREWORK- MAKER'S DAUGHTER

Friday 29th January

L.O: I can give a character advice

First, listen to the video of me reading 'The Firework Maker's Daughter – Chapter Two Part Four'

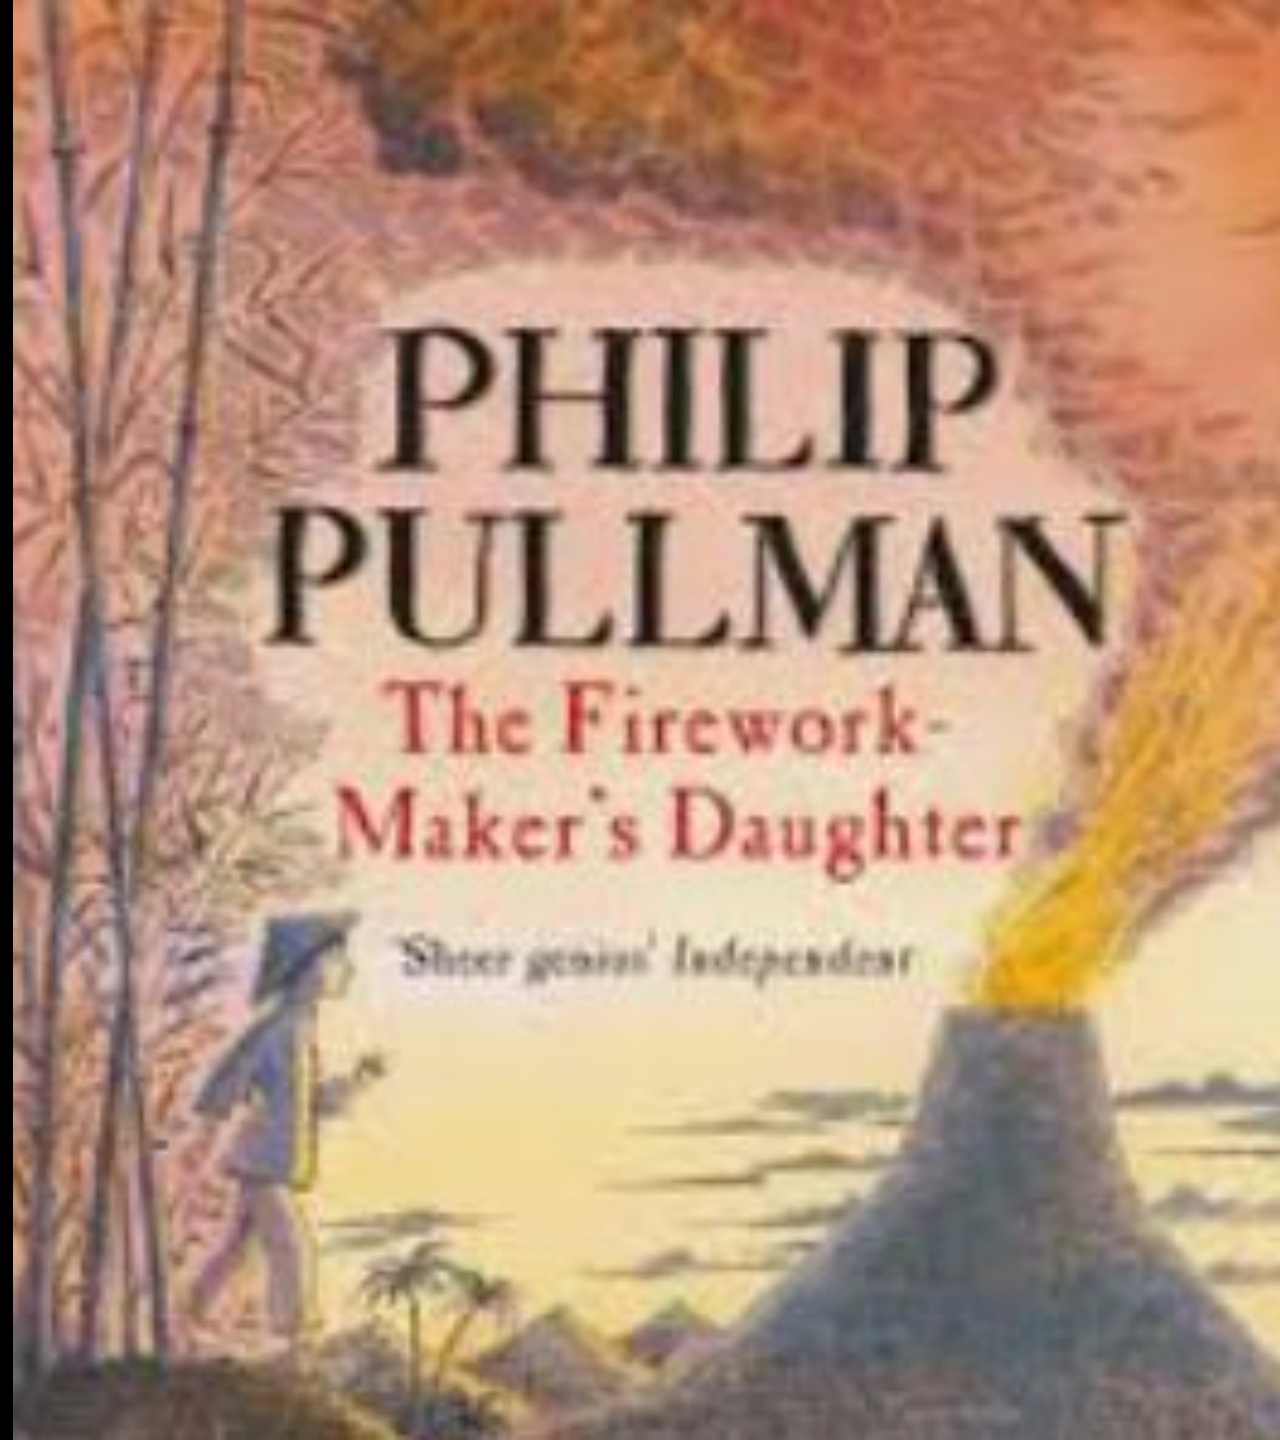

Today, we are think about what Lila should do after she has been captured by the pirates!

What would you do if you were her?

You are going to write a letter to Lila telling her what to do next.

Start your letter with 'Dear Lila', e.g:

Dear Lila,

I think you should...

I've started with one idea. You can use this (change it as much as you like!) or come up with your own!

Dear Lila,

I think you should begin swaying in the boat. If you sway hard enough, you may be able to tip the pirates into the river!

If this doesn't work, I think the time has come to use violence. Pretend that you feel sea sick and lean over the side of the boat. When you do this, seize an oar and whack one of the pirates with it. Hopefully, they will then be so scared of you that they give up on their plan and simply give you a lift to the other side of the river.
